Quality Policy

We recognise that the future success of Easby Electronics depends upon the products and services we supply. It is our company policy to provide electronic components, procured, stocked and delivered as per the requirements of our customers.

We understand that our actions and those of our suppliers affect both our customer and our organisation. In order to meet customer requirements, our company will constantly work with all parties to improve performance throughout.

Our Management Review Process of our Quality Management System ensures that our processes remain efficient and relevant, allowing us to function effectively and adjust to the varied needs of our customers.

The system relates to the procurement, stocking and delivery, but not the manufacturer of electronic components.

We are certified to ISO9001:2015
