Data Protection Principles

There are six data protection principles required by GDPR Article 5 and adhered to by Easby Group. This section outlines the responsibilities arising from these principles and the Easby Group Policy for each.

1. Lawful, Fair and Transparent Data Processing

The requirement of this principle is that personal data must be processed lawfully, fairly and in a transparent manner in relation to individuals.

The Easby Group will maintain a register of all personal data that it stores and processes, the purpose, the lawful bases for doing so, and any personal data that is shared with third parties.

This information will be communicated with Data Subjects via The Easby Group Privacy Notice (an example is the one provided on the Easby Groups website) or within terms and conditions or other contracts.

In all instances these will be written in concise, understandable language which is appropriate for the audience.

The relevant Privacy Notice, or link to Privacy Notice, will be provided at the point of collection of personal data, or as soon as its practicably possible.

2. Purpose Limitation

The requirement of this principle is that personal data is collected for specified, explicit and legitimate purposes and not further processed in a manner that is compatible with those purposes. Further processing for archiving purposes in the public interest, scientific or historical research purposes or statistical purposes shall not be considered to be incompatible with the initial purposes.

The Easby Group will obtain personal data only by lawful and fair means and where appropriate with the knowledge and consent of the individual concerned.

Where a need exists to request and receive the consent of an individual prior to the collection, use or disclosure of their personal data, the Easby Group is committed to seeking such consent.

When the Easby Group would like to use personal data for any reason apart from what was originally agreed under the first principle (see above), the Easby Group will seek explicit consent for the new reason(s).

Consent maybe withdrawn by an individual at any time. The mechanism by which this can be done will be detailed in at least the Easby Group Privacy Notice(s).

3. Data Minimisation

The requirement of this principle is that any personal data which is stored and processed should be adequate, relevant and limited to what is necessary in relation to the purposes for which it is processed.

The Easby Group will identify for each Data Subject the purpose of the processing and the minimum personal data it requires for the purpose.

This is further detailed in the Easby Group Records Management Policy.

The Easby Group retain only minimum required personnel information.

4. Accuracy of Data

The Easby Group will take all reasonable steps to ensure data is accurate and will periodically check the accuracy of any personal data it stores and processes.

Where reasonable, any rectifications identified, or notified by an individual will be undertaken as soon as is practicable.

5. Storage Limitation

The requirement of this principle is that personal data is kept in a form which permits identification of Data Subjects for no longer than is necessary for the purposes for which the personal data is processed; personal data may be stored for longer periods insofar as the personal data will be processed solely for archiving purposes in the public interest, scientific or historical research purposes or statistical purposes subject to implementation of the appropriate technical and organisational measures required by the GDPR in order to safeguard the rights and freedoms of individuals.

The Easby Group will identify the retention period for personal data stored and personal data will be deleted as soon as is practicable after that time.

6. Integrity, confidentiality and security

This requirement is that personal data is processed in a manner that ensures appropriate security, including protection against unauthorised or unlawful processing and against accidental loss, destruction or damage, using appropriate technical or organisational measures.

Easby Group will use appropriate technical and organisational measures to ensure the integrity and confidentiality of personal data. This is detailed in the Easby Group Information Security Policy. The Easby Group will retain personal data only for the required legal, trading, or contractual period. Thereafter the personal data will be electronically deleted, any hard copy documentation will be securely shredded.

Rights of Individuals

The GDPR provides eight rights for individuals. This section summarises each of these and provides the Easby Group Process associated with each.

Where the Easby Group is deemed to be a Data Processor, Easby Group will engage with the Data Controller(s) on how requests from individuals will be fulfilled.

When an individual makes a request regarding any of these rights then, before any action is taken concerning the request, Easby Group will check that:

- The request is reasonable
- Their identity is confirmed
- There is no impact on other individuals' personal data and their rights.
- There is no legal, regulatory or contractual requirement to retain the data in its current form.

Right to be informed

It emphasises the need for transparency about how we use personal data. Easby Group process regarding the Right is covered in the sections Easby Group Privacy Notice and the Easby Group Consent Policy earlier in this document.

Right of Access

Individuals have the right to access their personal data and supplementary information. The Right of Access allows individuals to be aware of and verify the lawfulness of the processing. Details of who to contact to exercise this right are provided in the Easby Group Privacy Notice.

Right to Rectification

The GDPR gives individuals the right to have their personal data rectified. Personal data can be rectified if it is inaccurate or incomplete. Details of who to contact to exercise this right are provided in the Easby Group Privacy Notice. The broad principle underpinning this right is that an individual can request the deletion or removal of personal data where there is no compelling reason for its continued processing. The Easby Group Process After completing the checks detailed at the top of this section, the Easby Group will delete the relevant data as soon as is reasonably possible. An email will be sent to the requesting individual to confirm and act as a record of the completion of the request.

When processing is restricted, the Easby Group is permitted to store the personal data, but not further process it.

The Easby Group can retain just enough information about the individual to ensure that the restriction is respected in future.

The Easby Group Process

After completing the checks detailed at the top of this section, the Easby Group will not process the requesting individual's personal data until notified. An email will be sent to the requesting individual to confirm and act as a record of this.

Right to Data Portability

The Right to Data Portability allows individuals to obtain and reuse their personal data for their own purposes.

It allows them to move, copy or transfer their personal data easily from one IT environment to another in a safe and secure way, without hindrance to usability.

It enables consumers to take advantage of applications and services which can use this data to find them a better deal or help them understand their spending habits.

The Easby Group Process

The Easby Group holds only basic personal data. As such there is no data that falls under this right.

Right to Object

Individuals have the right to object to:

- Processing based on legitimate interests or the performance of a task in the public interest/exercise of official authority (including profiling).
- Direct marketing (including profiling)
- Processing for purposes of scientific/historical research and statistics.

Details of who to contact to exercise this right and how to complain are provided in the Easby Group Privacy Notice.

Rights related to Automated Decision-Making including Profiling

Companies can only carry out this type of decision-making where the decision is:

- Necessary for the entry into or performance of a contract; or
- Authorised by Union or Member state law applicable to the controller; or
- Based on the individual's explicit consent.

No automated decision making (nor profiling) is undertaken by the Easby Group either directly or on behalf of third parties. Should it ever be, then a process will be put in place and this Policy document updated.
